Dear Joe,

RE: AIR 2000 PUMPS.

In the late 1980's, as part of its proactive desire to reduce strain injuries and to enhance workplace safety, Powercoal discussed with you the potential for you to create a robust, yet lightweight and efficient diaphragm pump. Since this discussion, Powercoal has observed your design, development and supply of a range of such pumps.

It is timely for Powercoal to thank you for your efforts and congratulate you and your staff. These lightweight pumps have played a significant role for Powercoal by reducing exposure of our workforce to injury and reducing our pump maintenance costs.

Powercoal extends to you best wishes for your initiative to construct a new manufacturing plant and workshop facility at Toronto.

Sincerely,

Bernie Mckinnon
General Manager-Lake Macquarie.
